Hello FCC Families,

I can't believe it's already August — where did the summer go? It feels like it just started, and now we are slowly approaching the end of the summer season.

As we prepare for a new school year, please make sure you are staying connected with your provider regarding any upcoming closures, schedule changes, or important updates that may affect your child's care. This is also a great time to communicate any changes to your child's schedule as families begin adjusting to new school-year routines.

Cyrena Spafford
Director of Family Childcare
